

Dr. Daniel Mekonnen is a Geneva-based Independent Consultant of International Human Rights Law and International Refugee Law, and a Fellow of the African Studies Centre Leiden. Formerly, and among other things, he was a Senior Legal Advisor and Research Professor at the Oslo-based International Law and Policy Institute (ILPI). He also serves as a Member of the International Team of Legal Advisors for Cartoonists Rights Network International (CRNI), a project supported by UNESCO's Global Media Defence Fund. On account of his personal background as a forced migrant, he is a proponent of "standpoint epistemology" in the study of forced displacement.